RTD Board meetings are available virtually on Zoom, YouTube

Accessibility, familiarity are reasons for change to new platforms

DENVER (Feb. 23, 2021) – To provide the public with additional ways to participate and listen in on decisions made by their elected officials, the Regional Transportation District (RTD) is making the RTD Board's committee meetings, study sessions and monthly meetings available live on Zoom and YouTube, platforms that are familiar and accessible to people worldwide.

For links, agendas and more, visit the Board's meeting portal. Each meeting agenda includes call-in details and a link to join via Zoom, using a Chrome or Firefox web browser. Meetings are also streamed on RTD's YouTube channel.

The Board of Directors webpage provides a wealth of resources, including the Board's Two Week Calendar, agendas to upcoming meetings, and full-text transcripts and videos from past meetings. Also available on this page are biographical and contact details for each of the 15 directors that constitute RTD's Board.
